

Four steps for the workflow:

1. Assign region of interest

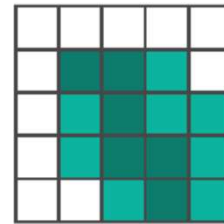

2. Estimate relationships between longevity and environment from benthic data

Distribution and species composition of benthic fauna

3. Predict sensitivity (=longevity distribution) at large spatial scales

Map of benthic sensitivity

Communities with more long-lived fauna recover more slowly and are therefore more sensitive

4. Estimate seabed state for the whole region and per MSFD habitat type

